On occasion of their 125-year anniversary in 1993, IWC launched a limited edition of the Portuguese watch, which was inspired by the original dating from the 1940s. The series produced 250 platinum pieces, 500 in pink gold and 1,000 steel watches; it came in an oversize 42 mm case and featured applied Arabic gold numerals and gold leaf hands. The exquisite movement was decorated with beautiful Geneva stripe décor and catches the viewer's eye through the transparent case back.
